BROWNRIDGE greenhouses and nursery has been a family owned and operated company for over 50 years serving both garden centre and landscape trade. Our shipping season starts early March with the blooming of the Primula, Pansies and Hellebore and continues through May with over a 1000 varieties of perennials, vegetables and unusual annuals. In the summer, we carry a variety of larger potted annuals and 1st year flowering perennials along with a full selection of 1-gallon perennials and groundcovers. The fall brings a selection of Garden Mums and Flowering Kale in a variety of sizes. Shipping stops for perennials only when the ground freezes and they are put to bed for the winter.

The following people are available to assist you:

Doug Brownridge (Greenhouse Operations, Perennial Production) for all custom and contract perennial orders, information, and shipping.

Carrie Brandow (Seasonal Production, Accounts) for all information, availability and custom orders in seasonal production, account inquires.

Ordering

The best way for garden centers to order is from our availability lists. These are e-mailed late Friday for the following week, and available on our website with a simple password. The lists indicate if the plant is in bloom and sometimes have other good or bad comments. All prices are listed. The orders are picked in order of delivery, so it is better to take the order earlier in the week rather than later, as we do not guarantee availability. Generally, product is sold as available on a first-come-first-ship basis.

All products having a size 6" or less are sold in full tray units.

Single pot orders can be accommodated EXCEPT between April 19 and June 15. A 20% service charge may apply.

Not all products in this catalogue are available at all times.

Pre-Pricing Option

We offer pre-pricing for all plants at an additional charge of $0.15/pot. All plants in pots 4.5" or greater will be marked with pot stickers, all sizes 4" and below will be marked with a pricing tag. You can select to have all plants priced or just a certain group i.e. only the gallon perennials. Any UPC codes and pricing information must be supplied by you electronically, a minimum of 1 month prior to shipping season. Please call for more information.

Versicolor(Harlequin Blue Flag)	This is a wild flower of Eastern North America, and one of the few native iris species in garden cultivation. Although happiest at the waterside, or actually growing in shallow water, plants will also perform well under average border conditions. Clumps of tall sword-like leaves are produced, bearing medium-sized flowers with bright violet-blue, ruffled petals. Might actually begin to naturalize in waterside areas that are to its liking. In smaller water features, consider growing this in large pots submerged to the rim.

MISCANTHUS ☀️🌙 Zone 4-5 One of the showiest of the grasses. Large or short, it is grown for its vertical or mounding habit and showy, fluffy flower panicles that are so striking in late summer and fall. Fond of moist sites.

Giganteus (Giant Silver Grass)		This is a grass of monstrous proportions, forming very tall clumps of green leaves, their tips arching gracefully in layers. Useful as a living screen or hedge, bearing soft-pink plumes in the fall. The corn-like stalks turn creamy tan in winter. Lower leaves have a tendency to wither in late summer, so planting something tall in front is recommended. Plants require plenty of moisture, and are even happy growing beside water.
		Pink	Green	September	10ft	36"	X
Gold Bar		Green leaves heavily banded with creamy yellow bars. Burgundy plumes in late fall. Very upright and compact.
		Burgundy	Green/gold	September	36-60"	24"	X

Little Miss		Small and colorful, Little Miss Maiden Grass will brighten up any landscape. It sports a neat, compact habit with glossy, arching foliage. The blades emerge green and transition to carmine and purple tones late spring through summer. Foliage at the center of the clump stays green, giving it an appealing, two-toned look. Reddish blooms appear in midsummer, rising above the foliage and turning buff-colored as they age. Fall color is outstanding; an excellent alternative to M. 'Purpurascens' when space is limited.
		Tan-white	Green	August	24"(36")	15"	X

Variety	Flowers Colour	Leaf Colour	Bloom Time	Height	Space	1gallon pot
ANGELONIA (Summer Snapdragon) ☼ Zone 10-11 Angelonia are heat-loving plants that will grow most vigorously and bloom best when the heat is on. They are plants best planted in late spring, since they won't really grow until the temperatures warm up. Angelonia will tolerate wet feet and a fair amount of drought. The plants are easy care with no deadheading needed. A bit of fertilizer or some compost in a garden bed is usually all that is needed for these plants to thrive. Due to their heat-loving nature they are one of the plants that can be planted even during the heat of mid-summer.
